

Anjali Srinivasan

Accenture Human Resources Business Process
Outsourcing Services,

Analyst

High performance. Delivered.

• Consulting • Technology • Outsourcing

Tell us about yourself and your background. What role do you play in your team at Accenture?

I have completed my Hotel Management from Aurangabad and worked for around two years in two hotels. Then I moved into Accenture, and have been here for around three years, in various projects. My current role in Accenture entails the onboarding of employees for my project.

What do you find interesting or rewarding about working in an international organisation?

There's exposure to various projects, and we deal with clients from all around the world. Employees are given opportunities to train in different projects abroad. The rewards and recognition program highlights the employees who excel at their work, which is really motivating!

How has Accenture's training programs contributed to the successes you have had along the way?

I have undergone various trainings during my tenure, one of the most rewarding trainings being the Leadership excellence program, which explains all that a future leader requires for his or her role ahead.

Anjali Srinivasan,
Accenture Human Resources Business Process Outsourcing Services,
Analyst