Tell us about yourself and your background. What role do you play in your team at Accenture?

I come from a hospitality background and have spent more than five years with the Taj Group of hotels, I have been with Accenture for close to two years managing the client visit experience portfolio in our Technology business.

Basically, I am responsible for ensuring a pleasant experience to our clients during their visit to the India Delivery Centre!

Tell us about the experience you had when you first joined Accenture

I came in with a mix of surprise, anxiety and apprehensions...I wondered how a person like me from the hospitality industry could add value to the sales function. Within a week, I realized the importance of the portfolio assigned to me. From that day, I have never looked back – having handled over 150 delegations from across the globe.

How has Accenture's training programs contributed to the successes you have had along the way?

The training programs are extensive and have a great impact in imparting the knowledge and skillsets to do my job efficiently. I have attended a lot of classroom and online trainings which help me to perform roles and responsibilities at my next level.
